Our 1st resource person Prof. Dr. Durga Sankar Rath delivered his speech through focusing on the empowering library users to maximize the utilization of learning resources. He tried to enlighten the library users showing them the importance of different library E-Resources. He also emphasized on the INFLIBNET NLIST. How can the people get the e-resources from this source, what are the E-Journal and E-Books available in this Portal, he explained the users thoroughly.

Then the next speaker of our workshop Dr. Bablu Sutradhar started his speech on the National Digital Library of India. He focused that how do the user can get the e-resources through NDLI. How does it help users through different languages to access their requirements etc.

The great advancement of Information Technology has led the libraries to create, process, access & manage the electronic resources for the users. The main objective of this workshop is to make the users aware of the libraries and the digital information in this new digital era. With the advancement of information technology, the libraries are shifting from its traditional system towards the information centres. To cope up with the increasing demands of information the modern libraries are adopting the new information technology using computers, internet & intranet etc.
