Overview

Introduction: On the 26th of April 2019, the Department of English at Egra S. S. B. College organized a workshop focusing on "Language and Human Communication." The workshop aimed to delve into the intricacies of language as a tool for communication and its impact on human interactions. With distinguished speakers and enthusiastic participants, the event promised to be a platform for learning and exchange of ideas.

Session 1: Dr. Gananath Das

The workshop commenced with a session by Dr. Gananath Das, a renowned expert in linguistics. Dr. Das delivered an insightful lecture on the role of language in shaping human communication. He explored various aspects of language, including semantics, syntax, and pragmatics, highlighting their significance in effective communication. The session was interactive, with participants actively engaging in discussions and posing thought-provoking questions.

Session 2: Prof. Kamal Kanti Aich

Following Dr. Das' session, Prof. Kamal Kanti Aich took the stage to further enrich the workshop with his expertise. Prof. Aich's lecture focused on the sociolinguistic aspects of human communication. He delved into the influence of social factors such as culture, gender, and identity on language use and interpretation. Prof. Aich also explored the nuances of intercultural communication, emphasizing the importance of understanding cultural context in effective communication.

Participant Engagement:

Throughout the workshop, 71 participants actively participated in discussions, sharing their insights and experiences related to language and communication. The interactive nature of the sessions facilitated a dynamic exchange of ideas, enriching the learning experience for everyone involved.
